

Festive treat for music club

COFFEE BREAK: Guests at the concert enjoyed refreshments provided by Jonathan Davis Wealth Management ^(S)

THE superb sounds of leading trumpet player Brian McGinley delighted the packed audience at Hoddesdon Music Club's Christmas concert.

Mr McGinley was accompanied by renowned pianist Christopher Baxter.

The evening at the United Reformed Church, Mill Lane, Broxbourne was sponsored by The Countess of Munster Musical Trust which supports talented young musicians.

Refreshments were donated by the Broxbourne office of Jonathan Davis Wealth Management.

Society chairman John Morton said: "It was a lovely end to a busy year. We heard some very interesting pieces, including one in which Brian dressed as a cowboy and took us on a musical trip to the Wild West, with horses and all."
